Noodlecake - Tier 1 Markets

The Quarter kicked off with the Company's first-ever cross-platform release on Nintendo Switch and PC (ASX: 17 April 2025), followed by the back-to-back global launch of two high-profile mobile games (ASX: 19 June 2025), and a multi-year licensing agreement with Amazon (ASX: 29 May 2025):

- Amazon Licensing Agreements: secured multi-year licensing agreement with Amazon during the Quarter to adapt and port a First-Party¹ title. This was subsequently followed by a non-material extension of the agreement to port a Third-Party² publishing title on similarly structured commercial terms. Proportional milestone-based payments for both titles are expected to commence in the following quarter.
- Super Flappy Golf (First-Party): reached over 83,500 installs following its global launch. The title follows a long-term commercial model focused on building engagement before scaling monetisation.
- Ultimate Chicken Horse (Third-Party): surpassed 177,500 installs in under two weeks following its global launch on mobile across Android and iOS as at 30 June. The title continues to benefit from strong brand recognition, having previously found success on console and PC.
- Sacre Bleu (Third-Party): recorded a significant ~390% increase in Steam wishlists, with over 12,000 outstanding – a positive indicator of future purchase intent. Player feedback remains overwhelmingly positive on both Steam and Nintendo Switch. The game is currently participating in the “Steam Summer Sale” and has also been included in Fanatical’s “Build Your Own Brutal Bundle”, among other premium titles.

Other notable updates during the Quarter include:

- Possessions (Third-Party): was re-released on Android and accepted into Google Play Pass, quickly rising the ranks to secure the top two spots on the Play Pass charts alongside another Noodlecake-published title, Death Road to Canada.
- Flick Shot Rogues (Third-Party): launched its first demo during the Quarter, timed to Steam Next Fest. The demo achieved strong traction with streamers and logged average playtime exceeding 40 minutes – a key metric used by Steam for store placement. Daily wishlist growth has remained strong, with marketing activity leading up to a planned Q1 FY26 release. The title will also be showcased at Gamescom and featured in the Nintendo Indie World event.

² First-Party Title: Developed internally; revenue fully retained by Streamplay.

- Winter Burrow (Third-Party): remains on track for a multi-platform release in November. Porting partners have been secured and the title has been accepted into multiple platform showcases, including Nintendo Indie World, Gamescom, and Wholesome Direct.
- Suzy Cube DX (Third-Party): encountered technical delays that have pushed the expected launch to spring 2026 following a revised milestone plan agreed with Apple. A Third-Party support team has been onboarded to accelerate development.

The studio continues to evaluate new third-party publishing opportunities, including several high-quality titles sourced from GDC 2025 and ongoing inbound submissions. These are being reviewed for potential inclusion in Noodlecake's future slate across mobile, PC, and console platforms.

Pacific Islands - Emerging markets

The Quarter saw continued commercial engagement across the Pacific, with steady contributions from established markets and renewed focus on preparing the region for future service expansion.

- Market Performance: In Papua New Guinea, high-level engagement during the Quarter reaffirmed mutual intent to scale operations and reinvest into the market which continues to generate solid revenues with minimal investment. American Samoa and Tonga continued to perform steadily, with VAS and SMS services contributing consistently. Preparations are underway in multiple territories for expansion of services, including the introduction of Caller Ring Back Tones (CRBT).
- Business Development Initiatives: The Company advanced several initiatives to support long-term growth in the region, including readiness for a new billing platform designed to drive business development and streamline future integrations across additional markets and networks. Deployment is scheduled to commence in Palau post Quarter-end. These efforts were supported by Streamplay's participation at the Pacific Islands Telecommunications Association (PITA) 29th Annual General Meeting, held in the Solomon Islands in May, providing a strategic platform to showcase VAS and OTT services to regional telcos preparing for upcoming 5G rollouts.

The Company has progressed early-stage commercial discussions in several new markets, reflecting growing interest in Streamplay's digital and entertainment service portfolio.

Middle East & Africa (MEA) - Emerging markets

The Quarter marked continued progress across Streamplay's cloud gaming initiatives in the Middle East, alongside early expansion into South Asia and maintained service delivery in South Africa with limited investment.

- United Arab Emirates (UAE): Playstream generated approximately AED 609,435 (~A$254,000) in platform revenue this Quarter (up ~23% QoQ), bringing total revenue over the past 12-month to AED 2.29 million (~A$955,250). The subscriber base grew to over 46,000, driven primarily by the continued partner-funded marketing campaigns supporting steady growth of Etisalat subscriber revenue (up ~4% QoQ), and a rapid increase in du subscriber revenue (up ~83% QoQ), with du now making up ~37% of the total monthly revenue by Quarter-end. Several new commercial agreements are under active discussion as the Company builds upon its multi-network strategy in the region.
- Sri Lanka: The Company completed all product integration readiness during the Quarter for Playstream's upcoming launch in Sri Lanka with Dialog Axiata (ASX: 4 June 2025). Final billing integration and UAT are now pending on the carrier side, with commercial launch expected shortly after.
- South Africa: While the Company has observed a steady rise in MTN Gaming Bundle subscriptions – highlighting latent demand for operator-billed gaming products - new user acquisition and marketing efforts remain paused due to a consistent decrease observed in billing success and ROI. Streamplay continues to service its existing subscriber base with minimal overhead while multiple partner-led go-to-market initiatives are being explored to support responsible, longer-term monetisation in the region.

Ongoing business development efforts throughout MEA and South Asia are supported by direct market engagement and regional partnership discussions, reinforcing the Company's belief in the long-term commercial potential of its digital gaming ecosystems across diverse telco environments.

While the Company's legacy telco services and regional subsidiaries continue to operate on a low-cost, low-effort model, Streamplay is actively engaged in commercial discussions with new telcos and market partners to introduce additional products and services. This strategy will be complemented by a staged rollout of direct-to-consumer (B2C) offerings, targeting non-telco audiences through carefully phased market entry and product positioning.

Financial Summary

The Group achieved positive operating cash flow of approximately A$390,000 for the Quarter (Q3: ~A$757k outflow) marking a turnaround since the launch of its acquisition-led growth strategy in early FY25. This reflects disciplined cost management, revenue momentum across key markets, and early integration benefits post-acquisition.

Cash receipts totalled approximately A$1.44 million for the Quarter (Q3 FY25: ~A$1.65 million), supported by contributions across the Group's operations. The result reflects improved alignment between revenue inflows and operating expenditure across both product and platform activities, as well as recovery of some long standing debtors in emerging markets in the prior quarter.

Operating outflows remained controlled, with no extraordinary R&D or acquisition-related items recorded during the Quarter. Expenditure included $909k of research and development (Q3: $1,372k), $214k of operating costs (Q3: $307k) with $326k of administration and staff costs.

The Company ended the Quarter with A$7.72 million in cash and no debt, maintaining a strong liquidity position to support ongoing strategic execution and opportunistic growth initiatives. Total payments to related parties and their associates for the Quarter were A$75,000, covering standard executive and board-related fees made on arm's-length commercial terms.

“ This was a milestone quarter for Streamplay. Returning to positive operating cash flow demonstrates that our acquisition and growth strategy is beginning to deliver operational leverage. We've now established a scalable foundation, and with Noodlecake's pipeline building momentum and regional deployment of key platforms underway, we remain confident in our ability to drive sustainable, capital-efficient growth. We are continuing to identify complementary assets to support that growth – both organically and via acquisition – while exploring further strategic opportunities that enhance our existing portfolio.

— Bert Mondello, Chairman of Streamplay Studio

Outlook

Looking ahead, the Company remains focused on:

- Supporting upcoming game launches across PC, console and mobile platforms, including Winter Burrow and Flick Shot Rogues.
- Scaling Playstream into additional regions through new operator partners.
- Finalising deployment of the overhauled telco billing platform across legacy markets.
- Driving cost discipline and investing selectively in high-impact commercial opportunities.

- Evaluating additional Merger & Acquisition opportunities that align with the Group's strategic focus and enhance its publishing and platform capabilities.

With a strong pipeline of game launches in Tier 1 markets, continued regional market interest, and solid cash reserves with cashflow positive operations in the latest quarter, Streamplay is well positioned for FY26.
