Jericho Copper Deposit

Our next copper mine

- Development of Jericho transforms Eloise:
 - Underpins our growth to 20,000tpa¹ copper
 - Extends project life and supports processing plant expansion
 - Economies of scale to reduce processing costs
 - Lower mining costs at Jericho due to shallower ore
- Jericho access drive is on track to reach first development ore in June 2026.
- Jericho Mineral Resource² is 19.2Mt grading 2.0% Cu and 0.4g/t Au containing 381,000t of copper and 245,500oz of gold.
- Jericho Ore Reserve² is 6.1Mt grading 1.8% Cu and 0.4g/t Au containing 108,000t of copper and 70,900oz of gold.
- Remains open along strike and at depth – mineralisation over 5km of strike.
- Combined Eloise Region Mineral Resources² total 28.4Mt grading 2.0% Cu and 0.4g/t Au for 563,000t Cu and 409,600oz Au.

Eloise Plant Expansion

Expand and improve Eloise

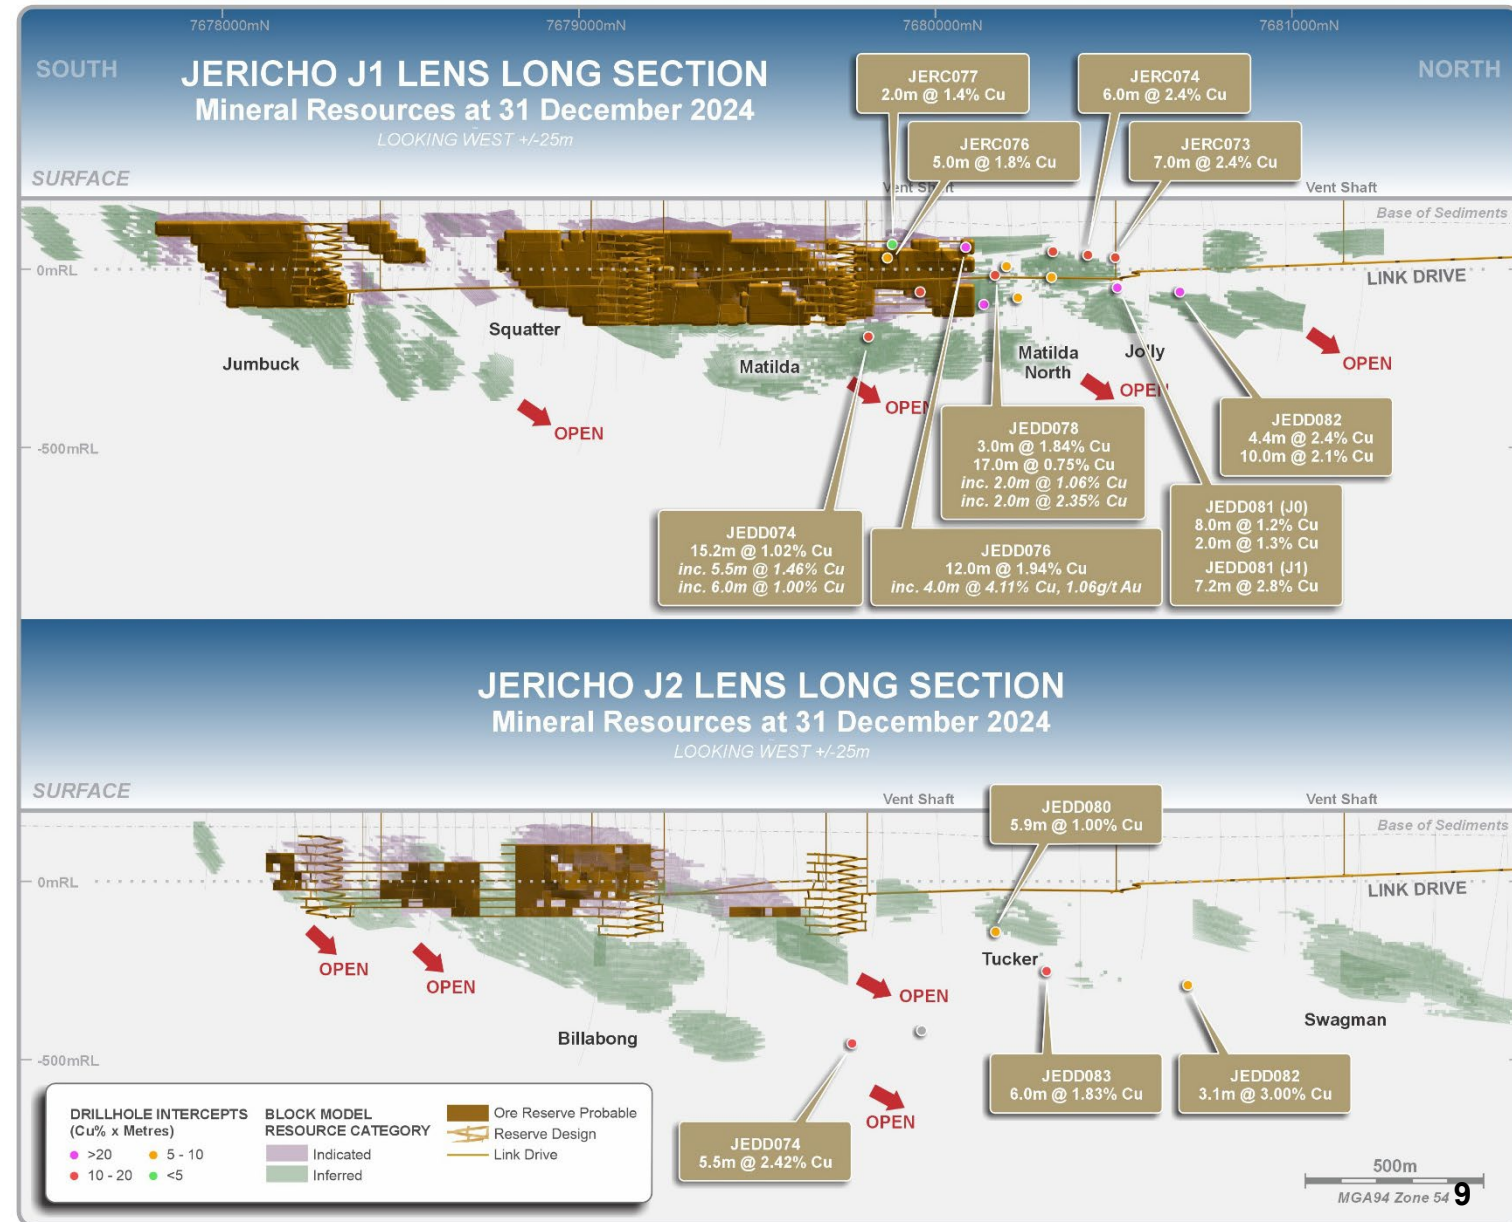

- Development of Jericho supports a plant expansion to 1.1Mtpa throughput capacity.
 - Designed to minimise operational impacts to Eloise during construction
 - Designed to accommodate further expansion
- Plant expansion cost and schedule now locked in with award of EPC contract to GR Engineering.
 - Awarded on a fixed-cost basis of $77.6M¹
 - Construction is due to commence in October 2025 with commissioning targeted for the December 2026 Quarter
 - Includes additional expenditure for oversized equipment to allow for a straightforward second stage expansion to 1.5Mtpa²

Near-Mine Exploration

Resources limited by drilling

- Jericho remains open along strike and at depth – over 5km of strike.
- Drilling at Jericho delivered a 33% increase in contained copper at a discovery cost of only $42/t of copper ($0.02/lb) in CY24.
- More than 10,000m of drilling is planned at Jericho in CY25.
- CY25 drilling is aimed at both growing resources and converting Inferred Resources to Indicated category at the northern end of the deposit.

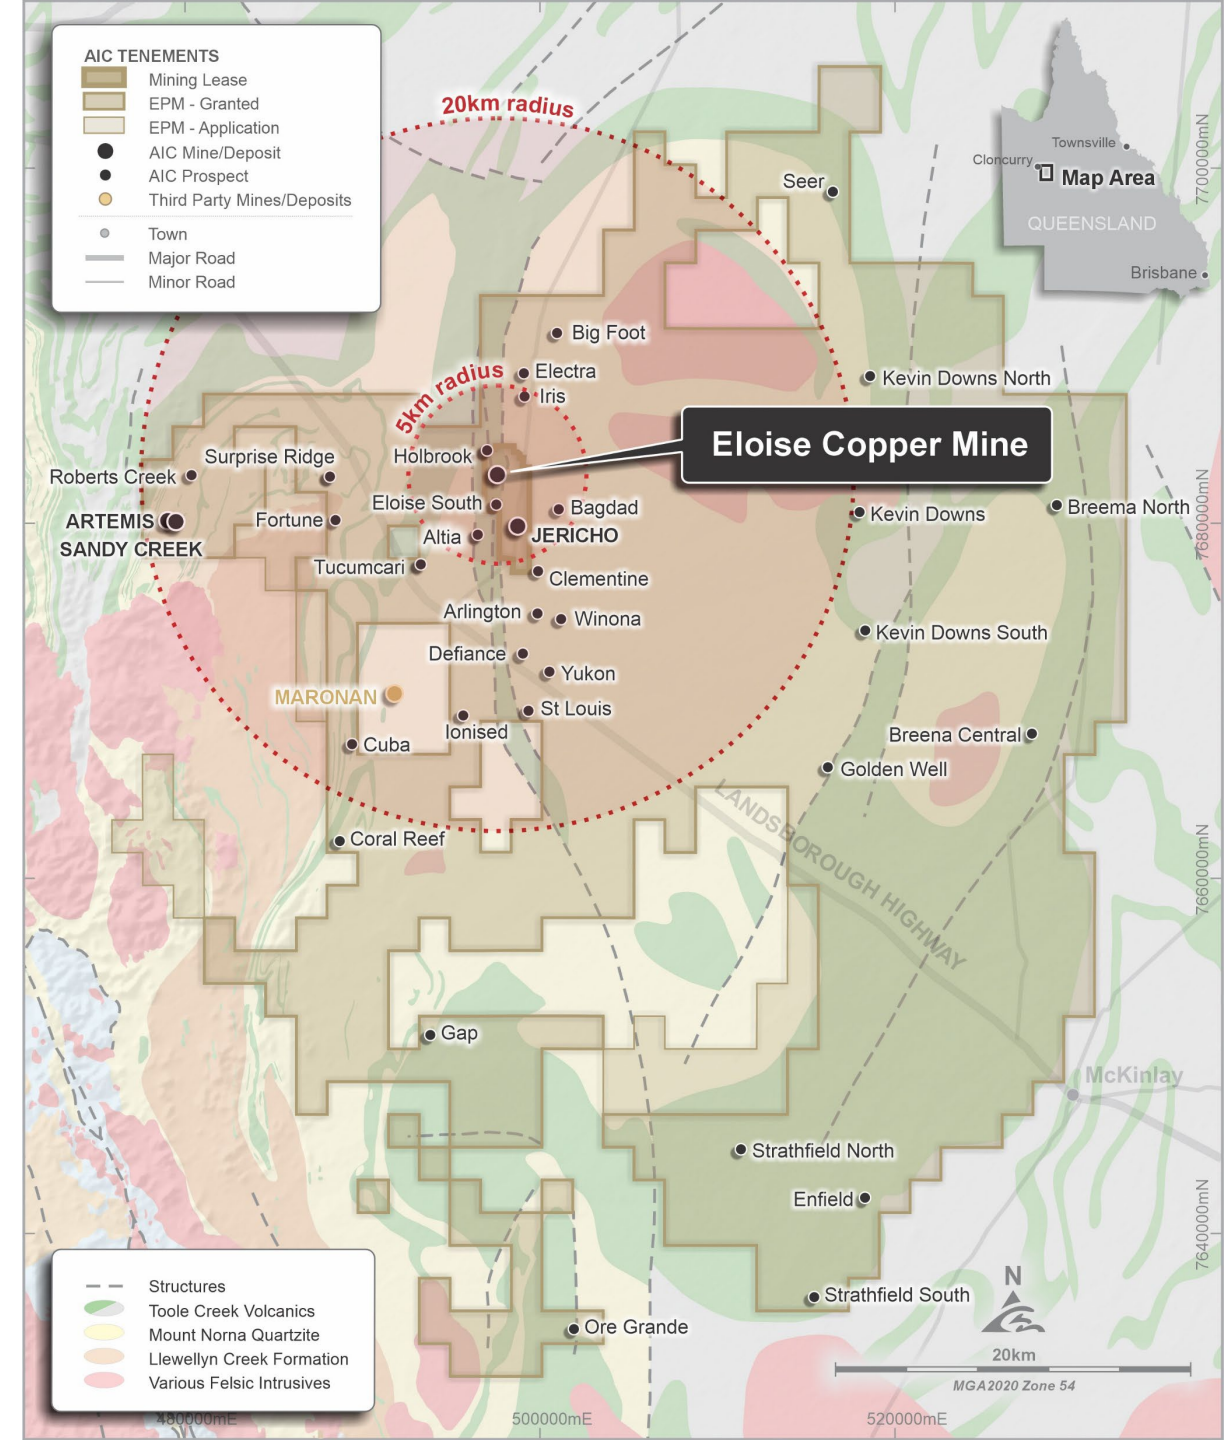

Note: Mineral Resources as at 31 December 2024 – full tables provided as an Appendix to this presentation.

Exploration Strategy

Focus on transformational discoveries

- Combined Eloise Region Mineral Resources¹ total 28.4Mt grading 2.0% Cu and 0.4g/t Au for 563,000t Cu and 409,600oz Au.
- Now searching for:
 - Higher-grade deposits (>2% Cu) to displace current resources
 - Large deposits (>20Mt) to warrant further expansion to Eloise processing capacity
- Exploration priorities:
 - Jericho resource extensions
 - Advancing early-stage prospects
 - Converting advanced prospect to resources
- Testing the highest number of targets in a decade².
 - >15,000m planned for CY25 and CY26

AIC Mines' Production Outlook

Eloise and Jericho Production Outlook

Production Outlook refers to the FY26, FY27 and FY28 Production Targets.

The FY27 Production Target is composed of 82% Probable Ore Reserves and 18% Inferred Mineral Resources. The FY28 Production Target is composed of 83% Probable Ore Reserves and 17% Inferred Mineral Resources.

There is a low level of geological confidence associated with Inferred Mineral Resources and there is no certainty that further exploration work will result in the determination of Indicated Mineral Resources or that the Production Target itself will be realised.
